Air quality improves

PETALING JAYA: Air quality yesterday improved with moderate Air Pollutant Index (API) readings in most parts of the country.

As at 6pm yesterday, Kuala Lumpur and Petaling Jaya recorded 82 points which is "moderate".

Only three stations in Sarawak – Samarahan, Sri Aman, Kuching – recorded unhealthy API readings of 116, 139 and 116, respectively.

API readings below 50 points indicates good air quality, 51-100 moderate, 101-200 unhealthy, 201-300 very unhealthy, and more than 300 is considered hazardous.
